

Memorandum

TO : Director, Domestic Contact Service

DATE: 23 May 1966

Attn: [REDACTED]

FROM : Chief, Washington Office

SUBJECT: Jeanne Dixon Prediction of Assassination of General Westmoreland

2. Mrs. Dixon [REDACTED] has established a reputation for her ability accurately to predict the future in a high percentage of cases. She reputedly tried to warn government authorities of President Kennedy's impending assassination, but nobody would take her seriously.

3. About 16 and 17 May Mrs. Dixon had strong indications that some soldier named Westmoreland would either be killed by someone he trusts, or he would make some correct major decision without clearing it with his superiors and his career would be "killed" here in Washington. His actual death seems to be the stronger of her impressions.

[REDACTED] Mrs. Dixon telephoned the Pentagon to inquire about an officer named Westmoreland and was surprised to learn that he was the Army commander in Vietnam. Since that time she has been trying to find a channel by which to alert him to his danger. She recognizes that in his position he would be well guarded, but is concerned over the indication that his assassin will be someone he already trusts. She states that this is the strongest indication since the Kennedy incident.

Mr. Cyrus Vance

I pass this report to you in the realization that you may think me "kooky". Nevertheless, this woman has received so much publicity I do not feel that from a public relations standpoint I can throw the item in the waste basket. Any action on it, I must leave to you.

This internal memorandum originates with our Washington Office of the Domestic Contact Service which we operate in the United States.
